

My Grandma Jodine

My grandma Jodine Sorensen is a remarkable person. She should, absolutely, be the AARP grandparent of the year because she keeps her small town going. She runs a youth center where kids in Hemingford, Nebraska can come to a safe environment and just have fun. My grandma contributes so much to the youth center. She pays rent, buys snacks, and does everything to keep kids safe. She also volunteers as an EMT and that shows that she cares. Not only does Grandma care about everyone, she cares about me. Taking me on trips, watching my sports activities, encouraging me to follow my dreams, and just simple things like loving me.

If you don't call that grandparent of the year worthy then I don't know what is. I have a good relationship with her and we don't fight with each other. She takes me to movies, out to eat, and buys me games. I care about her and wish I could hang out with her everyday. She helps with the elderly, sick and needy. My grandma gives all she has to keep people happy when they're about to pass. Everybody in Hemingford cares for my grandma and she cares for them, too. She has her own garden and pulling weeds is labor intensive so I help her.

She owns her own company called Sorenson Irrigation. It is a farming business. I help with farming and pivots. When we come back, I help my grandma mail checks.

Jodine Sorensen is the best cook on the planet. She sent me her recipe for her melt-in-your mouth chocolate chip cookies. Not only does she make treats..she makes healthy foods for me.

My grandma makes sure all my needs are met when it comes to clothes, shoes, backpacks, and food. I go to Grandma's house during the summer and holiday breaks. I guess that is why I look forward to school breaks. My grandma makes my life worthwhile. She can also do photography. I tried to take photographs and I thought they turned out horribly. Grandma Jodine encouraged me to enter them in the fair and so I did. I won the big prize. I guess what I am trying to say is " I love my grandma.", She is the best and she deserves to be grandparent of the year.
